THE JOURNEY

Mahalia Kotjane's Rhône-inspired Stellenbosch wines embody a unique South African journey of power and elegance. Her passion for wine began with a school project on yeast fermentation, an experience that ignited her curiosity and led her on a path from a township in Johannesburg to the Western Cape.

There, she pursued studies in agriculture and embarked on her wine career in 2011. Her roles as a winemaker at Stark-Condé and Lievland Family Wines significantly enhanced her skills and deepened her understanding of the diverse South African terroir. Armed with this knowledge and experience, she launched her own label, Three Quarters, a name that reflects her position among her siblings and symbolizes her journey in the wine industry.
